

WOMEN'S ORGANIZATIONS.

A beautiful entertainment was given by the D. A. R. Monday at the Elks' home. The parlors were decorated with an abundance of white and pink chrysanthemums. The meeting was called to order promptly at 3 o'clock by the regent, Mrs. George Wimberly, and a short business session was held. Mrs. H. B. Stevens made some remarks in memory of Mrs. J. F. Mullen, who has lately passed away and who was a member of this chapter.

Mrs. E. M. Bray, the registrar, reported eight new members who had been received into the chapter since the last meeting.

Mrs. Barnes gave a most interesting report of the work done by the Silver City chapter, of which she has been regent for some time.

After the business session the meeting was given over to the committee for the day, of which Mrs. F. S. Meyer was chairman. The social part of the program was begun with a song, "Texas," by Mrs. Will Owen in her usual sweet way.

Mrs. Jos. Spence then read a very interesting paper on Thanksgiving, in which she told of the first Thanksgiving by the pilgrim fathers.

Mrs. Florence Comfort sang a sweet little Japanese song in Japanese costume.

Slips were then passed to all in the house on which were written sentiments for Thanksgiving.

A beautiful block made of fine white bird's-eye maple, most beautifully engraved, was presented to the chapter from Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Meyer made the presentation speech and in a most graceful manner she said the block came from a tree whose roots had perhaps been nourished from the dust of some of the bravest men of time and whose leaves might have helped to furnish shelter and shade over the immortal head of Washington when he knelt in prayer for his starving men.

Mrs. G. W. Klester designed and planned the block and Mrs. Meyer secured it during her visit to Pennsylvania this summer.

Miss Chloe Calhoun played very beautifully the sextet number from Lucia de Lammermoor.

Pumpkin pie with whipped cream and coffee were served.

The affair was enjoyed by 42 members and guests.

The Sunshine Helpers met last Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Irene Essington on Lee street. Several new "helpers" were added to the circle and much interest was shown by both the old and the new members in the work the circle is doing.

The hostess, assisted by Miss Sarah Cobb, served delicious refreshments.

Those present were: Mrs. Geo. Brunner, Mrs. Morrow; Misses Justine Newbrough, Bayne, Kinnon, Critchett, Seamon, Lerkin, Cobb, Ruth Kerr, Essinger, Blakesley, and Master Harold Morrow.

The Daughters of the Confederacy will meet on next Thursday, November 17, at Trinity M. E. church.

Mrs. A. P. Averill will be the next hostess for the Dickens Reading club on Saturday afternoon.

The music department of the Woman's club met this afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. W. R. Brown. A most pleasing program was given under the direction of Mrs. A. F. Sievers and Mrs. J. J. Kaster.

The Sunshine society is arranging to give a bazaar on December 15. In addition to the various booths, Mrs. F. B. Hollington will be in charge of an entertainment, which promises to be most enjoyable.

Miss Grace Peak very charmingly entertained the Sunday school class of Mrs. P. J. Rice, of the First Christian church, Friday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock. The hours were enjoyably spent in games and music, and the hostess served a dainty luncheon.

The table was attractively decorated in the class colors of red and white, with ribbons extending across the board from cover to cover, while dainty ferns formed the central decoration. Only the members of the class were in attendance.

Mrs. Charles Gaylord and William Graham entertained the women of the Calvary Baptist church yesterday afternoon in the church parlors. The afternoon was spent in arranging for the bazaar to be given December 1, and a social hour and refreshments were enjoyed.

The women of the First Presbyterian church are arranging to hold their usual Christmas bazaar on December 8.

The Woman's Aid society of the East El Paso Presbyterian church will meet Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the church parlors, corner Texas and Poplar streets.

The W. C. T. U. will meet Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the parlors of the Y. W. C. A., when Mrs. W. C. Davis will preside. A talk on state convention happenings will be given by the president, Mrs. M. L. Golden.

A letter from the state superintendent of "Sabbath Observance" will be read, and a talk on "The Needs of El Paso" will be made by Mrs. J. W. Hadlock. Mrs. J. T. Rowe will also give a paper on "The Needs of El Paso."

A paper on the most important feature of the W. C. T. U. work will be given by Mrs. J. F. Cox.

COLDS ARE CONTAGIOUS.

You have noticed that at certain seasons a great many people have colds. It is merely a sort of epidemic, one person catching cold from another. When you have a cold you ought to cure it as quickly as possible, both for the sake of your own health and the people about you. White's Cold Tablets cure a cold quickly and safely. Where a cold is also present, White's White Pine and Tar is soothing. Both these remedies made and sold by Scott, Watson & Co., Prescription Druggists, 204 Mills street.

DANCES.

One of the most elaborate social affairs of the season, was the dinner-dance given last evening by Mrs. J. F. Williams, and Mrs. J. A. Happer, complimentary to Miss Frances Clark. The patio of the beautiful Williams' home was enclosed and transformed into a veritable Japanese tea garden, with a profusion of peach bloom, Japanese lanterns, and palms, and the affair was an artistic masterpiece in the completeness of the decorations in Japanese motif.

Japanese lanterns were suspended from the ceiling of the enclosure, the floor was spread with handsome oriental rugs, and palms added to the pleasing tropical effect.

The debutante's table occupied the center of the patio, with the seven smaller tables grouped around it. Pink and white were the colors chosen for the decorative effect, and the tables were exquisitely adorned in these colorings. Cluny lace centers and doilies were attractively used over pink spreads, and tall cut glass vases filled with peach blossoms, and surrounded with tulip, formed the central decoration.

Pink candles filled the cut glass candelabra, and the bonbon baskets accentuated the pink tones.

The place cards were dainty fans in Japanese design, and the favors were tiny Japanese parasols, and lanterns.

The dinner was served in six courses, and between each course a song or some other form of entertainment was given by the guests. W. K. Marr gave a monolog, and vocal selections were given by Mrs. Marguerite Buckler Stevenson, Miss Gertrude Ellis and W. P. Fraser.

The entire lower floor was cleared for the dancing, which followed the dinner. Throughout the apartments the chrysanthemum decoration was observed.

Chrysanthemums and ferns were upon tables and mantels, and wall vases were filled with the bloom. Quantities of palms and ferns were also effectively used.

Stationed behind a screen of palms, Concha's band played during the dinner, and for the dancing, which followed.

Included in the guest list were: Misses Frances Clark, Anne Lee Gaines, Dorothy Kinney, Lillian Newton, Wanda Race, Carolyn Payne, Ruth McCurdy, Virginia Semple, Aileen Hague, Katharine Coles, Anna Shelton, Rena Caldwell, Gertrude Ellis, Gladys Dyer, Fannie Henning, Ethel White, Maud Austin, Agnes Eadie, Josephine Clark, Elizabeth Barton, Hallie Irvin, Ethel Walk, Clara Hague, Anna Grace Ellis, Kathleen Myles, Mrs. Lella T. Moore, Mrs. Marguerite Buckler Stevenson, Mrs. Josephine N. Morfit, Mrs. Lulu H. Montmorency, Messrs. Ralph Henderon, Merton Lindsey, Maury Kemp, Britton Davis, Garnett King, Ira Berry, W. K. Marr, W. P. Fraser, Joe Peyton, Robert Krakauer, Walter Palvey, Francis Moore, J. B. Kilpatrick, George Davis, Charles Loomis, C. A. Beers, Leo Wines, Paul Hammett, Eugene Fox, Francis Gallagher, Allen Rodas, Ballard Caldwell, Gunther Lessing, R. W. T. Moss, J. B. Vance, Walter Arnold, J. F. Williams, J. A. Happer, Leutnant Charles C. Morrow.

Among the plans for Thanksgiving day, nothing promises more pleasure than the dinner dance at the Country club on Thanksgiving evening.

W. H. Tuttle entertained at a beautifully appointed dinner on Saturday evening at the Country club, given to Mrs. W. S. Thiton, Dr. and Mrs. S. T. Turner, and Mrs. B. M. Worsham, and Mrs. F. M. Aguirre.

OUT OF TOWN VISITORS.

Mrs. M. Cartwright, who was here to attend the marriage of her son, Reagan Cartwright, to Miss Isabel Brandon, left Sunday evening for her home at Terrell, Texas.

J. H. Henning of Roswell, N. M., is in the city visiting his sister, Mrs. Charles T. Race.

Mrs. W. W. Jourdan has as her guest Miss E. M. Lyons of Palo Alto, Cal.

Mrs. J. H. Parsons of Tacoma, Wash., who has been visiting Dr. Ida Bishop for a few days, will leave this evening for her home. Mrs. Parsons is returning from the national convention of the Methodist church, which she attended at Buffalo, N. Y., as National Bureau secretary for Alaska. Mrs. Parsons formerly resided in El Paso, was at one time president of the Woman's club, and is well known here.

Mrs. W. E. Grey is visiting her daughters, Mrs. E. R. Thonlin and Mrs. Samuel Ruffner, of 817 and 912 North Oregon street, from Mexico City.

After a two months' visit with her cousin, Miss Marian Campbell, Miss Marian McCandless left Thursday for a visit at Guanajuato, Mexico, before returning to her home in Illinois.

After a two months' visit in Tyler, Mineral Wells and San Antonio, Edgar Love has returned to the city to spend a short time with his daughter, Mrs. W. I. Watson, before going on to his home in Tucson, Ariz.

Reagan Cartwright entertained at a charmingly appointed dinner on Friday evening at the Harvey house, complimentary to his mother, Mrs. M. Cartwright, of Terrell, Texas. Yellow chrysanthemums attractively adorned the table, from which the delicious six course menu was served.

Those in the party were: Mrs. M. Cartwright, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pickrell, Mr. and Mrs. Reagan Cartwright, Mrs. W. P. Head.

Miss Ruth Critchett entertained very delightfully on Friday afternoon with a luncheon and linen shower, complimentary to Miss Lelia Harless, who will be married November 23 to Carl C. Vaux.

The autumn tints of red, yellow and brown prevailed in the decorations of the table. Yellow chrysanthemums formed the centerpiece, and the drawn work cover was strewn with autumn leaves. The pretty gifts of linen were laden around the centerpiece of chrysanthemums, and effectively covered with autumn leaves, and at the conclusion of the luncheon, the bride-elect was asked to pull the ribbons to which the dainty gifts were attached. A most pleasing book compiled by the guests was also presented to the bride-elect.

In addition to the honor guest, those present were: Misses Eleanor Eubank, Josephine Silva, Irene Essinger, Marguerite Kinnon, Sadie and Ruth Kerr, Elizabeth, Ada and Chloe Goff, Robertson, Hazel Harvey, Donna Truesdale, Della Eggers, Doris Eggers, Amy Schultz, Bertha Hale, Meta Kelly, Mary Lewis, Laura and Fink.

LYSANDER JOHN'S SUBTERFUGE

By Frances L. Garalde.

LYSANDER JOHN APPLETON went home one evening in perfect health. He got off the car ten blocks from his destination, that he might enjoy the exhilaration of the walk, and as he swung along, it was with a feeling of contentment, good-will toward all mankind, and the happy anticipation of an evening to be spent quietly with his newspapers.

He had to leave home early in the morning, and his evenings were his only opportunities for quiet reading, and when he thought of the joy ahead of him he quickened his stride.

But the moment he caught sight of his wife when he entered the house, his barometer fell, for her hair was in curl papers.

The dinner looked good, and Lysander John was hungry, but realizing that a desperate situation must be met with desperate means, he refused to eat, and bowed his head on the table with a groan.

"What's the matter?" asked his wife, "are you sick? And just when I had arranged to take you over to a neighbor's to play cards?"

"I would like to go with you," groaned her husband, "but I am a very sick man. I have appendicitis. My head is whirling. I have a touch of the gout. My arms are full of rheumatism. I have lumbago and pluripluri and feel an attack of pneumonia coming on. I am afraid I will not live till morning, but don't let that keep you from your card game. I can stay alone."

"I won't leave you," said his wife, indignantly; "it shall never be said of
